Oklahoma City ... most everyone has opinions on the tragic event there last week. Virtually all of these opinions have been expressed over and through April 24, 1995. over throughout the ensuing week. We have not personally encountered anyone who defends the bombers, but have heard secondhand reports from Willie Rachel, Annie W. Hall, Bonlaw enforcement types of militants who actually have said it was the right cille Bush, Annise Coleman, Allen thing to do. Internet, that cyberspace thing being flocked to by computer hacks, had bulletin board messages flowing across the phone lines defending the explosions, as did many national radio talk shows. Some were suggesting the government staged the whole thing as an excuse to go after the Foley, James F. Flowers, Mollie many anti-government militant groups springing up around the nation. Regular readers recall we wrote recently that there are apparently as many Hattaway, Louise Rogers, Terry nuts on Internet as on Any Street, U.S.A. Maybe that was an error ... there Caldwell, Patricia Oswalt, Ralph may be more nutty folks on the 'net than in real life.

What can be done to counteract violent, random killings by extremists of Jackson. all kinds? America has long been the country where this just didn't happen, but it no longer bears that distinction. There is probably no one thing which will eliminate this major problem. It will take a combined effort and require sacrifices and continuous efforts by multitudes. More than likely, regular law abiding folks will have to give up some rights and freedoms to help law enforcement root out and neutralize the extremists who place no value on human life. That will upset bleeding heart types and many criminal defense lawyers, but laws are simply guidelines to insure our American freedoms. These laws are only effective as long as people are civilized enough to obey them. While encouraging respect for (or enforcing) laws, American citizens must also openly display a genuine love for humanity. This means "witnessing" or adopting and practicing religious teachings of love - every hour of every day. Most people realize the word religion turns off all too many citizens, but the teachings in our bible are a good way to live, even if one doesn't openly accept the religious part which we happen to cherish. The same holds true for the holy books of many other world religions. Every journey starts with a small first step ... let the above mentioned teachings go forth with our readers now - on the golf course, at the ball game, the bridge club and driving down the highway.

In Atlanta last weekend many young, mostly college age black party seekers converged for their annual Freaknik. The gathering is billed on a higher plane, but actually it is one big, wild party. We read complaints, even before the weekend arrived, that law enforcement would be picking on the visitors. Even one Atlanta city council member was quoted as complaining vestigated the following incidents: SATURDAY, APRIL 22 - Possible "she heard police were going to try to control traffic, etc." As it turned out, businesses which closed down were probably better off because there was property, one DUI, one VPL, one (4:15 a.m.); Alarm at a residence on The Elba City Council has been "she heard police were going to try to control traffic, etc." As it turned out, looting and open stores left in shambles. We read earlier this week of a group of people suing the U. S. government for back pay. It dates back to the Vietnam war and some clandestine, officially denied, CIA doings. Their claim is that our government hired them to go into North Vietnam, etc. undercover. After they were captured, they say the government (the U.S. that is) cut all off their pay. The story jarred our brain. In about 1961, or maybe early 1962, we were recruited for what was apparently a job in this same project. After being recalled to active duty by JFK during the Berlin Crisis we were offered a discharged from the Army if we "volunteered for" this "great" position. It meant going to SE Asia as a technical advisor in civilian clothes. The U. S. government would deny knowledge of us if we got in any type trouble (that obviously meant captured). A government official made the offer and our pay would come round-about from the U. S. (he said). We were single and the money sounded great, but it appeared the war was about to escalate and we wisely declined the position, promise of rapid advances and the fancy money.

Another touched a power line to see if the current was off--it WASN'T! FRIENDS IN 4TH GRADE. Went to same church. Reunited A man quit going to church to see if he could be a Christian without it-- in Elba in 1974. Guess Who?

In this humanistic day, we need to think about the importance of studying and worshipping together. Jesus taught that, if we are a Christian, we are part of His Body--and members of a body need one another. The body is healthy only as long as the members work together. Paul echoed that when he said, "For as the body is one and has many members, but all members of that one body, being many, are one body, so also is Christ..." (I Corinthians 12:12). He went on to say that no member of the body can say to another, "I don't need you," but that each member That is also true where the human family is concerned. There has never been a day when there have been stronger and more victorious attacks on the family than today. National Family Week--which begins on Sunday, May 7th, and climaxes with Mother's Day (Festival of the Christian Home) on Sunday, May 14th--reminds us of the importance of the home and family. We need to revive the spirit of family, which is the basic unit of our society, and remember that each member of the family needs the other members of the family in order for the home to function smoothly.

Seniors Visit Alabama by Britley Black

The cast of St. Joan welcomed the senior class of Zion Chapel at the Alabama Shakespeare Festival. The trip is taken annually by senior English classes instructed by Mrs. Sonya K. Shaw. St. Joan was written by Bernard Shaw and is set in fifteenth century Europe. Joan is a godly woman who wishes to pursue God's will be become a soldier. Convicted of heresy, Joan is burned at the stake in England. In the 1920s, Joan was pronounced an important Saint of the Catholic church. The production was filled with humor and encouraging experience, the play motivates audiences to never stop believing in your soul. The senior class watched the play in the Octagon, a small stage for small audiences, and were able to view the play its entirety. The closeness of the seatenables students to see dramatic fa-

The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Report cards came home again last week and all was well with the Mularz girls as both girls brought home good reports and were ail smiles when bringing the cards for Dad to look at. Melissa has enjoyed a good year in the sixth grade and her fifth report card was another good one, while Melanie made all "S's" and even made 100 on conduct, which was quite a feat. Report card day wasn't always that much fun when I was growing up, but last week was fun for everyone involved!

ELBA TIGERS STAY ALIVE WITH IMPRESSIVE AREA WINS The Elba Tigers had been left for dead on the baseball diamond after losing six straight games and watching their record dip to 3-7; however, the Tigers may have cost the florist some money last week on flowers as they came back to life and claimed impressive wins over Louisville and Luverne to make it back into the playoffs.

Elba had played bad in some games during their losing streak and was stunned in losses to Louisville and Luverne, but looked pretty good in other games, and wasn't as bad as many people thought. Well, last week the Tigers showed that they do have some "Tiger Pride" and battled back with their backs to the wall. Griffin Shirley, Leray Smedley and Chris Hudson all had big weeks at the plate, while Hudson flashed signs of brilliance on the mound and allowed only seven hits in two games to pick up complete game wins in both Area victories.

Elba's 5-8 record may not strike fear into the hearts of any of their opponents, but the Tigers have power (14 home-runs in 13 games) and speed, and have now begun to find the pitching needed to win. Don't count these guys out just yet!

'96 RECLASSIFICATION TO CREATE NEW AREA RIVALRIES The Alabama High School Athletic Association released its reclassifications for the 1996-97 school year and the changes will be very obvious for area teams as many of the old "Area" rivalries will be merely a thing of the past. Here is a quick look at how the athletic scene will look mer rivals Luverne and Louisville moving down to the 2A ranks. The Tigers new Area 3 foes in '96-97 will be Rehobeth and Headland, which puts Elba in a three-team area with two Wiregrass schools. Elba's Coach David Lowery admitted the new area alignment will be different, but stated it might help the Tigers finally fill-out a schedule since only Louisville will probably drop the Tigers, and the new teams must be added. *NEW BROCKTON - The New Brockton Gamecocks have to be wondering what they did to deserve their switch to the 2A ranks, especially why they will be placed placed in Area 4. The Gamecocks have been struggling in recent years and enjoyed the stay in 1A, but beginning in '96-97 New Brockton will be in the same area with Georgiana, Goshen and Luverne, possibly the toughest area in the state in 2A circles. Coach was thankful the change is still a year away.

*ZION CHAPEL - The Zion Chapel Rebels will have some new neighbors in their area, but since the newcomers will be Houston Academy and Ariton, very little will really change. New Brockton, Pleasant Home and McKenzie will all move out, leaving the Rebels with what should be a very balanced quartet. Coach David Collins felt his team wouldn't really notice much of a change with the 96-97 reclassification

Dan Klages said the reclassification was bad news for New Brockton, but

and suggested the overall schedule might not change at all. *KINSTON - The Kinston Bulldogs will remain with Zion Chapel to hold down their old area, and should be pleased that newcomers Houston Academy and Ariton will join the group, while New Brockton, McKenzie and Pleasant Home will move out. The Bulldogs have been struggling to make the post-season, but should be happy with the news. Kinston principal Jerry Barnes stated he felt the move would be good for the Bulldogs and renew old rivalries, while allowing the 'Dogs more flexibility with *BRANTLEY - The Brantley Bulldogs dominated sports in Class 1A, moved up to 2A last season and have continued their success, and in the 96-97 school year will move back down to 1A and jump in Area 3 along with J.U. Blacksher, Frisco City, McKenzie and Pleasant Home. The change should cement Brantley as a playoff performer in football, while in basketball, Frisco City has a successful program and could become a

Devils will move down to 2A and in just one year will not have to try to compete with Elba and Luverne, two of the state's top football powers over the past decade. The Red Devils will swap Elba and Luverne for two tournaments in one, with com- Director Ricky Mularz, "but we G.W. Long, Clayton and Houston County. Quite a swap for Louisville, and one that has already undoubtedly created much excitement. Slocomb will also move down from 3A to 2A and will jump into the area with Cottonwood, Geneva County and Wicksburg, while St. Paul's will move up to 4A after many successful years in 3A athletics. Remember, the changes won't take place until the 1996-97 school year, I just thought you'd like to know.

RECREATION PARKS ARE WHERE THE ACTION IS IN ELBA Anyone that tried to find a place to park at Hawkins-Williams Park last week will tell'ya that it looked like everyone in town was at the park as the softball and baseball leagues began their seasons. The biggest crowds were at the field where Tee-Ball and Coach-Pitch baseball was being played; however, the stands were also packed for girl's softball and plenty of fans hung around for the men's softball action. Over at Legion Field, a lot of people were standing as the crowds were large for both Dixie Youth and Babe Ruth games. I realize that there are a lot of proud parents and grand-parents in the stands; however, when the kids look up and see the stands packed, it makes them even prouder. So, please keep on coming

Tour of Civil Rights Center
Saturday, April 22, 1995, members and pastor of New Zion Baptist Church, Elba, AL, traveled to Birmingham, AL and toured the Birmingham Civil Rights Center. The tour was very educational, because some of the children were unborn at the time of the Civil Rights struggle.
They saw Kelley Ingram Park, They They saw Kelley Ingram Park. They saw segregated (white and black) water fountains, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. statue, the water tank from where water was sprayed on the blacks, the Birmingham jail, the stat-ue of three black men kneeling in prayer with Bibles in their hands, and many, many more interesting sites and news about the Civil Rights struggle. Those on the tour included: Rev. W.L. Peterson, Ollie Ruth Pe-terson, Mamie Speed, Katonya Pe-terson, Barbara Tillis, Fabreka Tills, Darrie Cantollope, Mary Robinson, Chris Weston, Danny Weston, Edward Cumberland, Eric Western, Amanda Coleman, Nicki Terry, Kenue Coleman, Michelle Stephens, Mary Daniels, Kera Stephens, Michelle Daniels, Shanta Stevens, Annie Jean Daniels, Aaron Coleman, Rashad Bilal, Brandon Speed, Johnny Edwards, and Lakeia Walker. The group said, "Keep Dr. King's Dream alive and love one another."
